

Saguni

Saguni Lodge – Okavango Delta (Khwai Concession)

A short bush flight from Maun drops you into the heart of the Okavango Delta, where Saguni Lodge rests beneath ancient ebony and leadwood trees, right along the Khwai River. Here, water and land merge, and so do the stories—of predator and prey, of stillness and sudden movement, of wilderness at its most alive.

What Makes It Special?

A Delta That Breathes Year-Round

Even when much of the Delta lies dry, waiting for the rains, the Khwai River remains a lifeline. Mokoro (canoe) safaris glide silently through channels still flowing—past hippo pools, elephants bathing at the river's edge, and jacanas dancing across lily pads.

This region stays wet when others don't, offering a rare, immersive view of the Delta's hidden rhythms.

A Sanctuary for Bird Lovers

With over 400 recorded species, this is a birder's paradise. From the elusive Pel's Fishing Owl to the vivid Carmine Bee-eater and the acrobatic African Skimmer, the skies and riverbanks hum with color and life.

Exceptional Game Viewing

Bordering the famed Moremi Game Reserve, the Khwai Concession delivers thrilling wildlife encounters—lions on the hunt, leopards melting into the bush, painted wolves weaving through golden grass. With 2 outings per full day, morning and evening, you experience the full spectrum of the Delta's drama.

Raw Comfort in the Wild

Saguni is unfenced and untamed—wildlife roams freely through camp, and every moment is close to nature. The canvas suites are comfortable yet authentic, blending safari tradition with thoughtful style. All meals, drinks, and twice-daily safaris are included, so all you need to do is watch, listen, and feel the land move around you.

